Learned counsel for respondent No.3 has stated that the benefit of pension and other retiral benefits have already been released to the petitioner and nothing is due to him. However, learned counsel for the petitioner states that no interest has been paid although the payments have been released after undue delay.

In view of the above, we dispose of the writ petition with the observation that if any other dues are still outstanding, the petitioner may make a representation in that regard, which shall be disposed of by the respondents in accordance with law.
